multiply by millions!

You've often watched the teller stamp your cheque. Every day, in every branch of every bank in Canada, cheques are being scrutinized, stamped and recorded. During the war years, this daily flow of cheques through your bank has swollen to a torrent. Deposit accounts are more numerous and active than ever before. This increase reflects the tremendous activity of Canadian life and business. Production, purchases and payrolls have all reached record levels.

In addition, three-quarters of a million men and women in the armed services must get their pay, and their dependents receive allowances regularly.

The handling of this wartime volume of cheques is quite apart from numerous special services which the banks have undertaken—the delivery of millions of Victory Bonds and the sale of countless War Savings Certificates; ration coupon banking; subsidy payments to producers; foreign exchange operations.

Yet all this extra work has been carried out at a time when new help has had to be trained to take the place of more than 8,500 bank workers now in uniform.

His Red Cross Mother

FIGHTING through the mud and icy slush of flooded battlefields, our boys in the front line have learned to bless the tens of thousands of devoted women who labor as volunteer workers for the Red Cross.

Through five years of war, these Canadian "Blue Smoke" workers have knitted hundreds of thousands of pairs of socks... made millions of other comforting articles of clothing... packed millions of Red Cross food parcels. —Other specially-trained volunteer women serve as drivers, as nursing aides, as office workers and dietitians.

Freely giving their time and labor, these hard-working volunteers make your Red Cross dollars stretch farther. Thanks to their efforts, each dollar you give is multiplied three times in the value of food, clothing and medical supplies it buys.

GIVE — and give generously, to support their selfless work. Let your contribution to the Canadian Red Cross be the token of your thanks to these devoted women who serve in very truth, as "another mother" to your boy, or your friend or neighbor in the fighting line.

SHORT STORY—
A BARGAIN IN TAXES
—By—
GERTRUDE H. WINDERS

"I'm expecting a report from Harris this morning, Ethel," Mrs. Irvin told her secretary.

"Everybody says he's a wizard at whittling down evaluations," approved the secretary. "He'll fix you a bargain in taxes, but he'll charge you a fat fee."

Mrs. Irvin's round face set in stubborn lines. "I don't care," she declared. "It'll be worth it. He's a shyder but I haven't the slightest compunction about hiring him. I refuse to be done, and the Government is trying to do me right now."

Her well massaged brow wrinkled at the piles of unplanted shrubs stacked on the terrace outside. "This Norwegian gardener the agency is sending had better be all they say he is," she went on. "I specified that he must be over draft age so I'll take what they send, I suppose. Can you believe it, Ethel? This place is appraised at $75,000! I couldn't get half that if—"

"Unless you divided it into lots," murmured the secretary. "Then you'd get a good deal more."

Mrs. Irvin flushed. "I certainly am not going to cut my garden into building lots," she snapped. "I am taxed at a ridiculously high rate on an outrageous appraisal."

"Of course," agreed the secretary hastily. "I just meant—"

"And I must protect myself against legalized robbery," Mrs.

Irvin broke off, looking up, astonished, at a tall man in the doorway. "I was sent by the employment agency," he said in careful English.

Mrs. Irvin nodded dismissal to her secretary. Called after her, "Bring me that report as soon as it comes," and turned her attention to the gardener.

In spite of a new, badly fitting suit there was something magnificent about the man. Dimly Mrs. Irvin was reminded of strong, bold vikings riding their ships in Norse seas. His steady blue eyes had an air of command. He strode forward and handed her a card from the agency. His name, appropriately, was Ericson. His hair was light. It could be gray, she studied the card. He was fifty-six.

"Your references?" suggested Mrs. Irvin.

He pulled a portfolio from under his arm. "These will show you what I have done."

Mrs. Irvin gave a cry of delight. Colored photographs of the most gorgeous garden she had ever seen. Formal hedges cut in quaint patterns encircled a stone fountain. Beyond, evergreen majestic in the grouping—framed patches of red blossoming shrubs and masses of deep blue and purple flowers.

"Our Norwegian wild pansies and forget-me-nots," he explained.

"Lovely!" cried Mrs. Irvin. "I shall want you to do a wild flower garden for me. Did you do all this?"

"The garden is very old, but for the past thirty years I have had charge of it."

Mrs. Irvin was looking at a view of the house—an enormous stone structure like a medieval castle. She paid her old gardener $85. This man would expect a good deal more, she was sure.

Her secretary came in. "Mr. Harris's report, Mrs. Irvin."

Mrs. Irvin glanced at the estimate and beamed. With taxes pared like this she could afford a first class gardener. "Ericson," she smiled, "I want you to take charge here and develop some unusual planting arrangements. Now about your salary. Would a hundred a month—" she was prepared to go a good deal higher but the man nodded eagerly. "I shall be glad."

Her heart leaped. What a bargain! He was really a landscape artist. Entranced, she studied the pictures. "Where is this place?"

"The estate is on the edge of Narvik, about the city," he told her. "I left there a year ago."

"Narvik! Then you saw the German invasion?" She looked at him curiously. "Were you in the battle?"

"There was no battle. For six months before the Germans came we all knew what was going to happen, but everybody was afraid. Citizens would never leave their homes. I secret Nazi agents. I spoke out."

Abruptly he was silent.

Mrs. Irvin was interested. "Tell me about it," she demanded. "Where were you when the city was taken? What did they do? How—"

He put a big finger on the picture in her hand. "There," he said, "I stood and watched the German ships sail into the harbor. There were flames of light and great columns of men in perfect order marched off the ships and took the city. That was all. They were expected. There was no resistance. Their advance guard had attended to every detail." Only the trembling of his hands betrayed his agitation.

"Employed there so long it must have been hard to leave," murmured Mrs. Irvin. "Were you the head gardener?"

He pulled his broad shoulders erect and again Mrs. Irvin thought of vikings. "Madam, for 30 years I planned all of the landscaping, directed all planting, and did much of the work with my own hands. The garden was my hobby. For eight generations the estate has belonged to my family." He tapped the photograph. "This, madam, was my home."

Mrs. Irvin started. "Yours? You—you owned it?" she gasped. "And you are accepting a job as my gardener?" "I—I don't understand."

"The Nazis," he repeated, "attended to every detail."

"You mean—dear me! How dreadful! You hear of such things, but you don't realize—" she was nervously folding Harris's estimate.

"Of course we in America have our burdens. Taxes are heavy, but—"

"They should be paid gladly!"

With shaking fingers she tore Harris's report. It fluttered from her hands like confetti. "Right, Mr. Ericson," she agreed in a choked voice. "Any taxes in America are a bargain."

Irvin broke off, looking up, astonished, at a tall man in the doorway. "I was sent by the employment agency," he said in careful English.

WARTIME INFORMATION BOARD

Seventy thousand cases of Canadian canned salmon have been released for shipment to Australia under Canada's Mutual Aid plan.

Orders have been placed with Canadian shipyards for an additional 17 transport ferries. This brings to 71 the number of these large naval ships ordered from Canadian yards.

The first ship loaded entirely with civilian supplies to land at a French channel port since liberation arrived there recently. More than half the cargo was from Canada.

Canada's merchant seamen may get rehabilitation benefits under a plan being considered by the federal government. Canada will shortly be operating 200 large ocean-going vessels which will employ 12,500 seamen.

Captain K. T. Reed, one of Canada's most colorful adventurers, is dead. He was at one time a friend of Jesse James, the noted United States outlaw. He fought in the United States Civil war.

REGISTRATION FOR FAMILY ALLOWANCES

Starts on

MARCH 22nd, 1945

TO OBTAIN THESE ALLOWANCES
every child under 16
must be registered

PARENTS: Through the mail, shortly after March 22nd, all families will receive a Family Allowances Registration Form. Fill in this form as soon as it is received and mail it back in the envelope in which it came. Please do this promptly — it is in the interests of your children.

The form you will receive is very simple. There are only seven questions and only a few minutes need be required to complete the form, but be sure to answer every question.

Family Allowances are being provided to assist parents in the raising of their children. This monthly allowance is to be used for health protection, for doctors, dentists and nurses; to provide better food, adequate clothing and shelter, and to help equalize opportunities for all children.

INCOME TAX: No one will benefit from both Family Allowances and a full income tax deduction for their children. Parents have the choice of applying for their Family Allowances or not claiming the allowance and claiming the full deduction for their children under Income Tax. If they claim the Family Allowance, the amount of deduction from tax allowed for children under the Income War Tax Act will be reduced by the amount of any Family Allowance received. Anyone who is uncertain whether or not he or she will benefit from Family Allowances more than from Tax Deduction should register for the Family Allowance and in this way be on the safe side. Incomes may change during the course of a year.

COUNTS FOR PLENTY IN THIS NEW SYNTHETIC TIRE!

For example: Goodyear's Synthetic tire has many pre-war qualities... a four-way traction tread; a Superwall cord body for extra stamina; twin-protector cord plus under the tread to absorb shock. And these are only a few of the reasons why a Goodyear Synthetic tire is your best buy. We'll be glad to tell you more!
